ATLASES

CITATION WORLD ATLAS: NEW CENSUS EDITION. Hammond, 1971. $12.95.

Political, geographic, economic, and resources maps and some factual information for each country and each state of U.S. Good for school libraries and a bargain for quantity coverage and currency of information included.

AMBASSADOR WORLD ATLAS. Hammond, 1971. $16.95.

Has all the features of CITATION plus an index containing over 100,000 place names.

GOODE'S WORLD ATLAS. Rand McNally, 1974. Fourteenth edition. $9.95 hardcover, $5.95 paperback.

Excellent physical and political maps included. New features include pronouncing index, 7,000 new entries, special metropolitan areas index, environmental maps.

RAND MCNALLY ILLUSTRATED WORLD ATLAS. Rand, McNally, 1973. $2.95.

This compact, soft-cover handbook may serve as companion to WORLD ALMANAC. Explains in graphic form what WORLD ALMANAC gives in statistical form. The first section "This Planet Earth in Space and Time" is especially well done in clear, colorful graphics.

BIOGRAPHY

FAMOUS AUTHOR-ILLUSTRATORS FOR YOUNG PEOPLE. Il. with photographs. Dodd, Mead, 1973. $3.95.

Written for children to read themselves, the selections are children's favorites, highly popular and outstanding. Three are classics — Edward Lear, Kate Greenaway, and Beatrix Potter. Most are contemporary, still living and writing. Part of the Famous Biographies for Young People series. Describes personalities, lifestyles, art media, aims and achievements. New and useful!

AN INDEX TO YOUNG READERS' COLLECTIVE BIOGRAPHIES: ELEMENTARY AND JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL LEVEL. Bowker, 1970. $12.75.

Section one contains an alphabetical listing of biographies; section two is a subject listing. Indexes of subject headings and books by title are included. This volume provides a good reference lesson for children, offering practice in library skills, how to use an index, and preparation for using The Reader's Guide.

THIRD BOOK OF JUNIOR AUTHORS. Wilson, 1972. $10.50.

Continues the work of THE JUNIOR BOOK OF AUTHORS, 1951, and MORE JUNIOR AUTHORS, 1963. Articles are written by authors and illustrators themselves, with personally signed photographs. Sound selection of 255 entries made based on careful reviews. Index includes entries in first two companion volumes. Library should have all three if size of collection and budget allow.

DICTIONARIES

AMERICAN HERITAGE SCHOOL DICTIONARY. American Heritage Pub. and Houghton, 1972. $4.50. (Grades 3-9.)

Has interesting introductory sections on how the dictionary was put together and how to use it. The pronunciation guide is exceptionally lucid. Down the center of each page is a yellow panel with pictures (unfortunately, not always useful), extended definitions or short discussions of the words.

THE CHARLIE BROWN DICTIONARY. Based on the RAINBOW DICTIONARY. World Publishing; Times Mirror, 1973. $6.95.

New in both illustration and definitions, but vocabulary remains same as in THE RAINBOW

DICTIONARY. All the "Peanuts" characters are aboard. The 2,400 entries based on popular usage have pictures illustrating meaning, simple explanations, use of words in sentence with additional facts given to clarify meaning such as a synonymous word, or the use of the word with its antonym. Youngsters will enjoy using this dictionary.

WEBSTER'S INTERMEDIATE DICTIONARY: A NEW SCHOOL DICTIONARY. American Book Co., 1972. $6.50.

Based on citation files used for WEBSTER'S THIRD NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY and WEBSTER'S SEVENTH COLLEGIATE DICTIONARY. Contains 58,000 entries including new words such as dashiki, skyjacker, ecosystem; and conversion tables for the metric system. Two-color format used in illustrations and pronunciation guide in blue on each page enhance the format.

XEROX INTERMEDIATE DICTIONARY. Grosset and Dunlap and Xerox, 1972. $7.95. Also published as GINN'S INTERMEDIATE DICTIONARY.

The Xerox dictionary has readable introductory articles, with an especially effective explanation of the parts of an entry in the dictionary. The lack of word derivations is not corrected by the inclusion of a general article on Latin and Greek roots, however well written. But entries are up-to-date and include regionalisms, always fun to come upon while browsing.

ENCYCLOPEDIAS

BRITANNICA JUNIOR ENCYCLOPAEDIA. 15 vols. Encyclopaedia Britannica, 1973. $149.90; schools and libraries, $109.50; 2 or more sets to schools and libraries, $99.50 each.

Emphasis on easy to read, brief, and simple articles, arranged alphabetically, with cross references, and geared to elementary school curriculum for grades 3 through 8. Volume 1, Comprehensive Ready Reference Index, contains brief, current entries.

COMPTON'S ENCYCLOPEDIA AND FACT-INDEX. 22 vols. F. E. Compton Co., 1973. $195-$215; schools and libraries, $144; 2 or more sets $129.50 each.

Designed for home and school use to fit the interests and needs of children and young people through high-school age. Arrangement is alphabetical by broad topics with a quick reference fact index at the end of each volume; reference outlines for guided study and extensive current bibliographies.

MERIT STUDENTS ENCYCLOPEDIA. 20 vols. Crowell-Collier, 1973. $224.50; $165 for schools and libraries; additional discounts for 2 or more sets.

Curriculum orientation, broad coverage, signed articles, prolific references, student guides, and bibliographies: a valuable resource for upper grades and high school students. The readable text, comprehensive map program, fine paper quality, excellent photographic reproductions, good color, and artfully done transparency overlays enhance the work. Recommended for grades 5 up.

NEW BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE: THE CHILDREN'S ENCYCLOPEDIA. 20 vols. Grolier Inc., 1973. $199.50. Also available in Spanish as EL NUEVO TESORO DE LA JUVENTUD — THE NEW BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE. 20 vols. Grolier, Inc. $199.50.

An entirely new alphabetically arranged encyclopedia designed for school use. Articles are curriculum-oriented, written and signed by specialists and checked for interest and comprehension of elementary-grade children; excellent print and outstanding format profuse with colorful illustrations. Separate subject area teacher's guides are available.

WORLD BOOK ENCYCLOPEDIA. 22 vols. Field Enterprises, 1973. $215.95 and up; $144 for schools and libraries.

An authoritative general encyclopedia designed to meet reference needs and interests of children and young people. Arrangement is alphabetical, word-by-word, by small subject. Many names, maps, and diagrams accompanying articles are helpful; statistics and information are up-to-date. Volume 22 is Research Guide/Index.

YOUNG STUDENTS ENCYCLOPEDIA, 1973. 2 editions — Funk and Wagnalls, Inc. 20 vols. $37.80; and MY WEEKLY READER EDITION, 15 vols. $75. Xerox Family Books. (10 percent more colored photographs and more extensive index in latter edition).

Child-sized volumes simplify the project of beginning research for third, fourth, and fifth grade readers. Subjects are geared to curriculum of third through sixth grade. Illustrated with photographs, mostly in color. Index.

SEVENTEENTH AND EIGHTEENTH CENTURY ART, 1969. Ages 10 and up.

THE OXFORD JUNIOR COMPANION TO MUSIC. Oxford, 1954. $10.95.

Contains brief but accurate articles on composers, musicians, musical instruments, musical terms, and other topics. Includes illustrations, portraits, and facsimiles of musical scores, leaning toward the British. Preliminary section has tables of notation and a listing of the miniature examples of "Music the Reader Likes to Play" in the book. Useful for musicians ages 8 to 16.

HANDBOOKS AND ALMANACS

GUINNESS BOOK OF WORLD RECORDS. Rev. ed. Sterling, 1973. $6.95; $7.95 deluxe ed. Paperback $1.50.

A most popular yearbook filled with facinating records of all kinds. Don't miss it — essential first purchase.

WORLD ALMANAC AND BOOK OF FACTS. Newspaper Enterprise, Doubleday, Annual. $2.95.

Also a "must." It has been said that 80 percent of reference questions can be answered by the WORLD ALMANAC. New insert on world flags and maps in color. Zip codes listed by state and city.

ROBERT'S RULES OF ORDER NEWLY REVISED. Henry M. Robert et al. A new and enlarged edition by Saray Corbin Robert. Scott, Foresman, 1970. $6.50.

Useful charts, tables, and lists in colored center insertion make for quick search.

LITERATURE

CHILDCRAFT: THE HOW AND WHY LIBRARY. 15 vols. Field Enterprises, 1973. Price varies ($153.40; $75 school price).

Designed for use by and with preschool and primary children; large print, profuse colorful illustrations of great variety and high quality. Content, arranged by subject, is factual. Four volumes, new to the set, were previously issued as annuals: Children Everywhere, About Animals, About Me, and Look Again. This set is primarily for browsing and reading aloud, stimulating interests, stirring imaginations, and providing enriching experiences.

Iona and Peter Opie, eds. THE OXFORD BOOK OF CHILDREN'S VERSE. Oxford University Press, 1973. $10.00

Chronologically arranged verses written for children, spanning 500 years from Chaucer to Ogden. Authors and sources are given in Appendix. A useful reference for teachers, rather than for children but teacher might use contents with children.

RECREATION

N. Jennison, ed. THE CONCISE ENCYCLOPEDIA OF SPORTS. Illustrated with photographs and drawings. Watts, 1970. $6.95.
